THE DESIGN ISSUE

Best Homes This Season

ABOVE: Styled with comfortable faux wicker furnishings cushioned in Sunbrella's performance fabric, and the outdoor kitchen with a bar crafted by Elite Cabinetry, the lanai is fully self-contained with retractable screens ready for use when needed. "It's a beautiful, functional space for Florida living," says designer Jim Kunstel of Bay Design Store. See page 188.

BELOW: The Lucy Group selected Rejuvenation's wall sconces which yield a gallery-like character in the dining room. A bold blue mixed-media painting by artist Brad Durham is flanked by lush green plants. With a touch of tropical whimsy, Vitra's chartreuse "Panton Chair" from Fuse plays host to Bungalow 5's table from AJ Maison. See page 298.

Curating the most interesting and dynamic luxury home projects in our fine region is first and foremost on my daily agenda. The Naples design community is blooming with a unique combination of design styles, and our October issue is a testament to the talent and ingenuity of this region. In this issue, you will see the best in the business featured prominently throughout. Many of the projects we are celebrating here have won the industry's top accolade of "Sand Dollar Winner," the Collier Building Industry Association's annual design competition. As the exclusive Title sponsor of the gala again this year, we are honored to have a special section starting on page 101 that highlights the winning projects, and event pictures of some of the 550 industry leaders assembled at this year's gala on September 22nd at The Ritz-Carlton Beach Resort.

One magazine cannot be all things to all readers, but finding a niche, and doing it well, is at the heart of the Florida Design family of magazines. By focusing more sharply on inspired architecture, sophisticated interior design, and fine art and luxury furnishings, we have achieved that goal of effectively carving our niche. Florida Design's statewide edition, in its 29th year, and its regional siblings, the Miami Edition, Palm Beach The Island, and the Naples Edition have created the ultimate go-to sources of the brightest talent in the state, as well as in each affluent region locally. We look forward each issue to bringing our readers these mavericks in the design industry and continue to strive for the superlative in the market. A big thank you to all of the talented individuals in this area who are pushing the envelope and redefining the meaning of "luxury" in our region.

The objective was to create a luxurious and elegant, yet comfortable and livable home that would thrill guests. Rich driftwood gray wood flooring was selected to create a beautiful contrast with light agreeable gray walls and crisp white trim work, cabinetry, and tongue and groove ceiling details. Bright pops of turquoise add energy throughout the otherwise serene home in elegant grass cloth panel inserts in the reception parlor, custom bookcases in the study, lounge chairs in the living room, barstools in the kitchen and an upholstered bed in the master suite.

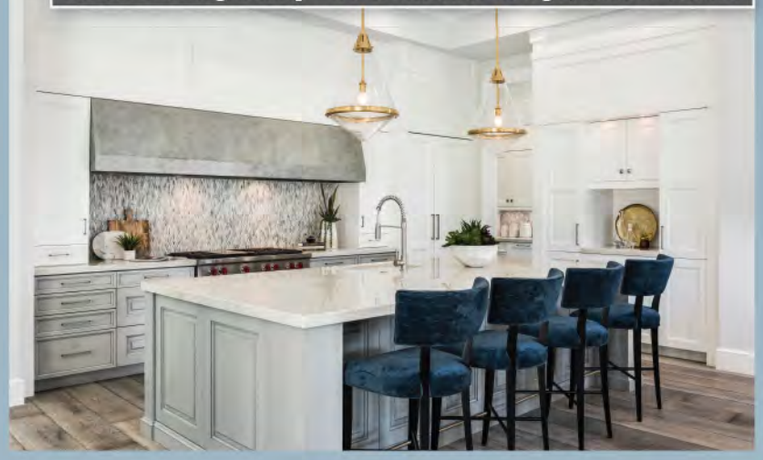
McGarvey Custom Homes - Product Design of the Year, $3.5M-$4.0M

Jinx McDonald Interior Designs
Interior Design of the Year, $1.5M-$1.75M

Fresh, energetic and bright are all excellent adjectives to describe the Seabreeze Model at Windward Isles. Warm greige, wide plank wood flooring in the main spaces is inviting and cozy. The interior boasts inspiration from both the West Indies, with its use of dark java accents and woven elements, and Key West with the vibrant use of aqua, turquoise, apple green and crisp white accents. The fun and charming interior in the Seabreeze model creates a casually elegant home.

The kitchen always seems to be where people gravitate and at 705 Hollybriar Lane it is set up perfectly for entertainment and everyday functionality. Custom white cabinetry lines the walls, while select base cabinets are finished in a light driftwood. A Sub-Zero refrigerator, Wolf range and Bosch dishwasher are all within a few steps of command central: the large center island with its prep station and a breakfast bar that seats four comfortably with more room for family and friends to gather.

Knauf-Koenig Group - Best Kitchen Design, $100K-$150K



Calusa Bay Design - Best Outdoor Living, Over $50K

Serenity is the word that comes to mind when experiencing this outdoor living space for the first time. The pool is a gorgeous shade of blue that invites you to jump in and soak up some rays of the beautiful Florida sunshine. A calming view overlooking the lake is enhanced with the addition of two fire bowls at the edge of the pool. Complete with a spa surrounded in vibrant blue glass tile with a chaise lounge on either side this outdoor living space is an oasis.

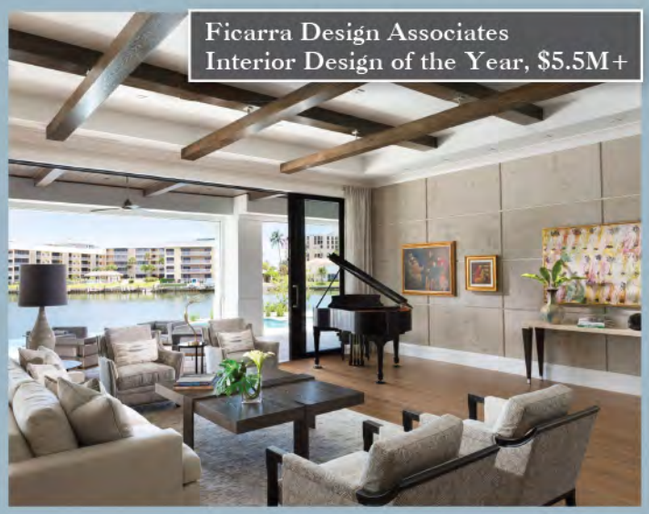
Clive Daniel Home - Interior Design of the Year, $5.5M+

With two levels of luxury living, this home reflects the best of the contemporary style of architecture throughout, including this great room styled with clean lines and pale beige stone in contrast with blue and soft pink hues. The home offers a magnificent master suite and den on the first floor plus two en-suite bedrooms and a guest master suite with vistas of the Gulf on the second floor. This home reflects a contemporary coastal feeling with a sophisticated yet comfortable Indonesian style.

Ficarra Design Associates Interior Design of the Year, $5.5M+



Contemporary styling mixes with traditional materials, such as wood and iron, as shown on the floating beams in the great room. There are many unique materials used throughout this home, including the taupe textured cement wall in the great room that acts as a background to the owner's large collection of artwork. The furnishings have clean lines and textured fabrics in taupes and beiges. Many of the pieces were custom designed by Ficarra Design Associates.

BCB Homes, Inc. - Best Outdoor Living Area, Over $50K

The outdoor living space is an important part of the home in Southwest Florida, and is oftentimes styled with just as luxurious of finishes as the interior of the home. The flooring material used throughout the loggia and the pool deck is a paver called "French Antique Terra Cotta Tile" which blends extremely well with the interior wood flooring to create a seamless transition from one area to the next. The eyes are drawn up to the exquisite cypress ceiling detail accented with a beautiful dormer window that brings more natural light into the space.

Lighting First - Best Specialty Feature, $30K-$50K

In this kitchen, three large islands are topped with semi-precious Crystal Quartzite. The Crystal is under-lit with a revolutionary new product created to beautifully and evenly illuminate semi-precious translucent stone surfaces. High-quality LED strips are embedded within the edges of the acrylic panel, which have been laser etched and coated with reflective backing for optimal light transmission. These panels include the latest "tunable-white" technology that easily changes color with a slide of a dial.

Collins & Dupont Design Group - Best Kitchen Design, Under $50K

Shades of gray accent the marble, cabinetry and backsplash tile in this kitchen. White, painted wood cabinetry is trimmed in gray, while the back of the outside island has a custom-designed wood feature that complements the steel banding and dresses up the back of the bar. The tile backsplash is styled with a clear glass and polished nickel mosaic that adds a touch of glam to the space. The counter tops are an Asian white marble with rich gray veining which balances beautifully with the gray accents of the cabinetry.

Vogue Interiors - Interior Design of the Year, $2.5M-$2.75M

The great room and dining area open to an outdoor living space with a fireplace, summer kitchen, conversation and dining areas, and a pool and spa. The interior offers an easy elegance with free-flowing organic comfort. A combination of textural materials and fresh white backgrounds is punctuated by beige, taupe and gray tones, and by judiciously placed chocolate accents. Wood-look porcelain tile flooring in the living areas is presented in a soft ivory tone to continue the design's light, bright and comfortable interior scheme.

Stock Signature Homes - Product Design of the Year, $1.5M-$1.75M

This home features a spacious great room with an optional built-in entertainment center, a large gourmet island kitchen and breakfast area, a formal dining room, four bedrooms or three bedrooms plus an optional bonus room, a study, four-and-a-half baths, an outdoor living area with an optional fireplace and summer kitchen, a pool and spa, and a three-car garage. Pocketing sliders open the great room to the outdoor living area to blur the boundaries between inside and out.

Broad Avenue Studios, Inc. - Interior Design of the Year, $1.75M-$2.0M

This is a second home for the client and intended to be a contemporary, luxury vacation getaway. The client's passion for sailing served as the foundation for the inspiration of the unit. A predominate blue color palette flows throughout as highlighted in the great room's plush fabrics, accents and featured artwork.

Designed around a flowing open concept floor plan with numerous entertaining destinations – including a formal dining room and three fire features – this custom 4,182-square-foot, two-car garage model embodies coastal contemporary with soaring ceilings and dormer-style windows. The flow is natural throughout the home, with expansive custom cabinetry unifying the main living spaces – from the large kitchen with oversized island for multiple uses to the full-service bar and office pantry.

London Bay Homes - Product Design of the Year, $4.5-$5.0M

Norris Home Furnishings - Interior Design of the Year, $1.25M-$1.50M

The great room was prepared for entertaining with large sectional seating, boasting a beautiful view to the pool and lake beyond through the full-length windows. The entertainment wall repeats the foyer tongue and groove detail, offering textural and tonal contrast. The seating area is anchored with a light sisal rug, then layered with soft linen tones and varying shades of driftwood and gray. A soft bleached driftwood-toned wood plank porcelain tile was selected for the main living area flooring.

Every detail of the interior design and architecture was chosen to evoke a cottage feel, such as wide plank white oak flooring, stunning built-ins, and shiplap and tongue and groove accents. With furnishings that are of transitional, coastal style in natural, organic materials, textures, and fabrics with a soothing color palette in blues and off-whites, the dining area remains open to the great room. This coastal interior scheme fuses a luxurious and over-scale custom home with an elegant yet charming Old Florida cottage feel.

Bay Design Store - Interior Design of the Year, $4.5M-$5.0M

Robb & Stucky - Interior Design of the Year Multi Family Homes, $1.75M-$2.0M

The designers included an 8-foot-wide fireplace installed within a built-out section of wall adorned with a glistening faux finish. Two large abstract paintings flank the fireplace and are lit from above to create a bright display space. Two sofas, set perpendicular to the fireplace, are upholstered in bisque leather. Charming accent pillows provide textural contrast while maintaining tone-on-tone elegance. A pair of deep-seated armchairs face the fireplace, while a massive bronze and acrylic cocktail table centers the social grouping.

Builders Glass of Bonita - Best Specialty Feature, Under $10K

This custom frameless glass wine room is an entire space of functional art, adding beauty and interest to the decor while providing a fantastic and truly unique atmosphere for entertaining. Best of all, this is the perfect way to showcase the creativity and splendor of a fantastic wine collection right in the heart of the home. Large hinges on the glass door and an oversized handle add to the dramatic appeal. Top and bottom pivot hinges are used — the strongest hinge to hold a heavy door without disrupting the stunning, frameless, all glass look.

BCB Homes - Product Design of the Year, $4.5-$5.0M

This custom residence in one of Naples' most elite waterfront neighborhoods, Port Royal, was completed earlier this year. The team collaborated with the homeowners to build on this lot for almost seven years before they decided to move forward and make Naples a vacation destination. There were many selections made upfront. This is a beautiful home and the owners are excited to spend winters enjoying the sunshine in their resort-like home.

Clive Daniel Home - Interior Design of the Year, $4.0M-$4.5M

Much of the furnishings and linens are custom made, including a 168-inch console that sits against a wood wall in the great room with gorgeous wood ceiling and wall details. A fully custom theater room features upholstered wall panels for sound and leather reclining seating. Highlights include a stairway with wood tread white risers, along with a Chippendale white railing pattern that is accentuated with metallic grass cloth wall covering, and a niche with whimsical, resin-folded three-dimensional art.

The homeowner wanted a space that was casual, comfortable and elegant with a touch of coastal influence. This meant lighter finishes, stained wood elements and stand-out spaces for showcasing a curated collection of European artwork. A private elevator opens up to a grand salon full of natural light. The kitchen takes on a clean, modern feel with open shelving and a polished black hood. Nearby, a built-in banquette boasting a striped fabric offers plenty of seating for casual entertaining.
